NO TIME TO LOSE.

FALL SEMESTER CLASSES BEGIN AUGUST 24

When signing up for an Academic Noncredit class, you usually have a purpose. You want to learn a new skill, achieve a goal, or maybe you're simply looking for fun. But once you start the learning process, you gain so much more. Learning builds confidence, fuels creativity, ignites ideas, and allows you to connect with a dynamic group of like-minded thinkers who just may become lifelong friends. And there are so many learning opportunities through Academic Noncredit classes, it will make your head spin with possibilities. Master a new language, expand your business skills, or pump up your fitness level—with Academic Noncredit classes, engaging your mind, body, and soul has never been more rewarding.

• These semester-long classes are taught by University of Utah professors and are held either in-person, online, or in a hybrid format.

• Learn stress-free! There are no tests or grades, but classes do appear on your student transcript.

• Classes cost, on average, 70% less than if you were taking the course for credit.

• You don't have to be a matriculated University of Utah student to enroll—anyone 18 and over can sign up.

• Sign up for our email list at noncredit.utah.edu and stay up-to-date with the latest information on our classes.

• And rest assured, all Academic Noncredit classes, including our fitness classes, will follow strict COVID-19 safety precautions, including social distancing and cleaning procedures.
