LEARN TO THRIVE IN THE NEW NORMAL

At Lifelong Learning, our goal is to connect inquisitive adults with enriching learning opportunities across all kinds of subjects. While we are unable to meet with you in person for the time being, we are still providing community and ways to connect over a common interest. As we are protecting each other by physical distancing, you can still explore, find inspiration, and have meaningful connections online. Do something good for your body, mind, and spirit—as well as your happiness—spend some quality time on yourself from the comfort of your home.
